Find your way around. Use the sidebar on a PC. On phones and tablets, the bottom buttons open Reactions, Reactors, MS Journey and Community. Reactions opens My Feed, and Community opens Chat Rooms. More contains the other pages, Preferences and Submit a reaction. Back returns to the previous page.

Finding something to watch in My Feed

Search and filter. Click the magnifying glass to reveal search and filters. Search for a title, reactor or song, and use Include Shorts to control whether Shorts appear. Customize feed offers more filters. Select a reaction's title to open its discussion, or Watch to open the source video.

Choose a sort. Newest uploads puts recent publication dates first. Highest rated uses video ratings, Most discussed uses comment counts, and Reactor size uses subscribers. Most viewed orders reactions by recorded views and leaves out official Missioned Souls uploads.

See one video from each reactor. Newest reactor follows the directory's order, based on each channel's oldest cataloged Missioned Souls reaction. Highest ranked reactors uses community channel ratings. Both show the latest reaction from each reactor that matches your current filters and exclude official uploads.

Save what matters to you. Use the heart to save a Favorite and the watch selector to track your own status. Saved Views remember filters and layout. Preferences lets you preview changes before choosing Save as default. Load more reactions adds more results to the page.

App guide - following, exploring and staying current

Following reactors and songs

Explore the directory. In Reactors, search for a channel and choose a sort order and page size. Use + Follow to follow it or Following to unfollow it. Discuss opens channel comments, where you can rate the reactor from 1 to 100. More contains Hide and Recommend removal.

Manage several follows. Follow All Reactors adds matching channels across every page, skipping hidden channels and existing follows. Clear All Following asks before clearing all reactor follows; it keeps song and performer follows and ratings. Go To Following opens your follow list.

Save a Following group. Expand Following groups, name your combination of reactors and songs, and save it. Choosing a Saved group switches automatically. Changes to an active group are saved when you switch away. View followed reactions on My Feed opens your Following feed, where your other filters still apply.

Import YouTube subscriptions. Expand Import YouTube subscriptions in Reactors and choose Connect YouTube. After granting read-only permission, review up to 100 matching reactors at a time and confirm your selections. Finish for now keeps completed imports. You can check again later or use Manage YouTube connection to disconnect and delete tracked imports. Manual follows remain, and your YouTube subscriptions never change.

Exploring MS Journey and the community

Browse the official archive. MS Journey organizes the band's videos by year, official playlist and collection. The magnifying glass reveals search and filters, while Include Shorts stays beside the results. Top 10 collections use recorded counts; view-growth rankings need suitable dated history. Videos open on their original platforms.

Join in. Open a discussion to rate a video from 1 to 5, comment or reply. Visit Chat Rooms and Mentions, and personalize your image in My Profile & Activity. You can also suggest missing reactions and earn Contribution Points and badges for helpful participation.

Keeping the app current or removing it

Apply updates. When Update now appears, finish any unsaved edits before selecting it. You need an internet connection for account data, community features and playback. If the interface looks outdated, refresh the page; on Windows, use Ctrl+Shift+R.

Remove the app. On Android, open Settings, choose Apps, select Reaction Journey and tap Uninstall. If it is only a home-screen shortcut, touch and hold it and choose Remove. On iPhone or iPad, touch and hold the icon and choose Delete Bookmark or Delete App. Device labels may vary.

Removing the app does not delete your account or saved choices. You can return through your browser or reinstall and sign in with the same account. If you need help, open Help, use Contact, or email contact@reactionjourney.com.
